Cellular Jail & Corbyn Cove Beach

SIC Sightseeing

For : 2 Adults

Start Date : 01-10-2024

Cellular Jail of Port Blair was an iconic colonial prison in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. It was here where many of Indian political prisoners were exiled to and executed by the British. What was used to torture prisoners in the past, is a national memorial monument today. The cells in the Jail are extremely small and suffocating. Some of the most remarkable prisoner here were Batukeshwar Dutt and Veer Savarkar. Cellular Jail, a national memorial is a must visit attraction that reminds us of the hardship our freedom fighters had to go through for the freedom that we are enjoying today.

Corbyn's Cove beach, the coconut-palm fringed beach, six kilometers away from Port Blair town is ideal for swimming and sun-basking. Facilities like hotel, restaurant, bar, changing room, adventure water-sports are available here. Historical remains like Japanese Bunkers can be seen on the way to this beach. The Snake Island situated just across the beach is popular for scuba diving. The Waves Restaurant & Beer Bar run by Tourism department provides delightful cuisine at reasonable rates in a soothing ambience.

Light & Sound Show of Cellular Jail The history of the Andaman Islands and the Cellular jail is depicted vibrantly through a Sound & Light Show every evening in the premises of Cellular Jail. This is a must visit show for every tourist. The Light & Sound show is held thrice a day both in English and Hindi.
